

HUMAN CELL ATLAS
PUBLIC ENGAGEMENT

November 2020

Evaluating the One Cell at a Time public engagement programme with the Human Cell Atlas (HCA)

The One Cell at a Time public engagement team is delivering an ambitious programme of events and activities, to explore key issues and questions embedded within the HCA research.

We are keen to find out what impact our public engagement activities have on those we engage with. To help with this, we have commissioned Helix Research and Evaluation to undertake a programme-wide evaluation which will ultimately inform the development of an on-going approach to public engagement across the whole HCA initiative.

Helix will be collecting feedback through a series of questionnaires, interviews and focus groups at different points over the next 12 months and we welcome any input. Any feedback you provide will be treated as confidential, stored securely and anonymised for reporting purposes. Helix Research and Evaluation is registered with the Information Commissioner's Office (reference number: ZA655054). Please see their privacy policy for more information about how research data is handled, stored and protected.

Should you have any questions or wish to discuss any aspects of this evaluation or your potential involvement, please feel free to contact me or one of the Helix team (see below for contact details).

Yours sincerely,
